Representative Delegations from Madison, Janesville and Beliot, Wis., and an Enthusiastic Crowd of Fountain County Visitors.

THE VISITING DELEGATIONS.

Wisconsin and Indianians Unite in Greeting

General Harrison. Wisconsin joined hands with Indiana yester-Cay, in an enthusiastic greeting to Gen. Harricon. The visiting delegation from this State same from Fountain county and was one of the largest and heartiest representations that has been here from any one county in the State. The Wisconsin delegation came later, and although smaller, was made up of excellent material. The Fountain folks reached here ever the I., B. & W., in a handsomely decorated train, at noon and numbered upwards of 1,-500. They represented a first-voter club of several hundred, carrying red, white and blue parasols, a Tippecanoe club of fifty and citizens generally. With them were the Attica, Kingman and Newtown brass bands and the Hillsborough Drum Corps. The size and appearance of the delegation attracted general attention and secured it a hearty reception.

The Wisconsin people arrived at 2:30 P. M., on the Big Four. They left Madison at I A. M., and motwithstanding their long ride were brim full of ardor and enthusiasm when they reached this city. One of the ornaments of their bandsome train was a long streamer bearing the inscription, "Not it might have been, but it will be Ben." The delegation numbered about 300, and included many prominent representatives from Madison, Janesville, Beloit and surrounding towns. Among them were Surgeon-general Palmer, W. T. Van Kirk, General Atwood, of the Wisconsin State Journal, and others. They were met by the local reception committee and escorted with a band to Tomlinson Hall, where the Fountain county delegation and a large concourse of Indianapolis people had preceded them. At 3 o'clock General Harrison came into the ball and was heartily cheered. By this time the large audience-room, including the stage, was weil filled, and the crowd was as enthusiastic as it was numerous. Captain Ben Hegler, a wellknown citizen of Attica, spoke for the Fountain delegation, while Mr. E. C. Spooner, of Madison, a brother of United States Senator Spooner, was the orator for the Wisconsin people, both addresses being cordial expressions of regard for General Harrison and the cause be

When General Harrison came forward to respond, there was a scene which reminded some of those present of the one presented at Chieago when his nomination was made. The large audience rose from their seats to wave hats and handkerchiefs, and those on the stage followed their example. The cheering was long and continuous. When quiet was restored, General

Harrison spoke as follows: My Wisconsin and my Indiana Friends-These great daily manifestations of the interest of great masses of our people in the principles represented by the Republican party are, to me ncreasingly impressive. I am glad to-day that Indiana has opportunity to welcome a delegation from the magnificent State of Wisconsin. Cheers. | It offers a fitting opportunity to acknowledge my personal obligation, and the obligation of the Indiana Republicans, for the early and constant support which Wisconsin gave to the efforts of the Indiana delegation in the Chicago convention. | Cheers. | To-day two States, not continguous in territory, but touching in many interests, are met to express the fact that th ese great electoral contests affect all our people. It ors that we have common interests. Our national Congress, though chosen in separate districts, legislates for all our people. Wisconsin has a direct interest that the ballot shall be free and pure in Indiana; and Wisconsin and Indiana have a direct interest that the ballot be free and pure in all the [Great cheering. | Therefore, let no man say that it is none of our business how elections are conducted in another State. [Cheers.] I believe that this great question of a free ballot, so much disturbed by race questions in the South, would be settled this year if the men of the South, who believe with us upon suon of the protection of America industries, would throw off old prejudices and vote their convictions upon that question. [Cheers and cries of 'Good,' 'good.'] I believe there are indications that the independent manhood of the South will this year strongly manifest itself in this direction. Those intelliand progressive citizens of the South who are seeking to build up within their own State diversified incustries will not much longer be kept in bondage to the traditions of the days when the South was wholly a community of planters. Whey they assert their belief in a protective tariff by supporting the only party that advocates that policy, the question of a free ballot, so far as it is a Southern question, will be settled forever, for they will have the power to insist that those who believe with them shall vote and that their votes shall be counted. [Applause.] The protective policy, by developing a home supply and limiting importations, helps us to maintain the balance of trade upon our side in our dealings with the world. [Cheers.] Under the tariff of 1846, from the year 1850 to 1860, the balance of trade was continuously against us, aggregating, in that period, over three hundred millions of dollars. Under the influence of a protective store. [Cheers.] "I will not detain you further. These daily demands upon me make it necessary that I shall speak briefly. Let me thank, most profoundly, those gentlemen and ladies from Wisconsin who have come so far to bring me this tribute of their respect. I very highly value it. These, my Indiana friends, unite with me in thanking you for your presence to-day. |Cheers from the Indi-

tariff the balance of trade has been generally and largely with us, unless disturbed by special conditions. Instead of sending our gold abroad to pay a foreign balance we have usually been bringing foreign gold here to augment our

"To my nearer friends, my Fountain county friends, let me say: I am profoundly grateful to you for this large and imposing demonstration and for the interest you are individually taking in this campaign. I do not think of it as a personal campaign. It has always seemed to me to be altogether greater than that; and when I thank you for your interest and commend your zeal it is an interest in principles and a zeal for the truth that I approve." [Cheers.]

At the conclusion of General Harrison's apeach the greater part of the visitors took occasion to pay their individual respects and most of them shook hands with him before leaving.

To-Day's Receptions.

To-day's reception is likely to be the largest of the campaign, the Illinois delegations being likely to be supplemented by excursions from Wells and Blackford counties. Democratic Economy.

The Democratic county central committee, urged on by the Democratic County Commissioners, are making a desperate fight against Dr. Theodore Wagner, candidate for coroner. The Doctor is more unpopular with them than any of the other Republican candidates from the fact that it was due largely to him that the tally-Stephen A. finally lodged behind penitentiary bars. The commissioners have spent days circulating stories over the county about Dr. Wagner's extravagance in office, and in making other unwarranted charges against him. In answer to them the Doctor has issued a small circular which he is distributing among the voters of the county. It is made up from the records in the auditor's office and shows the following auggestive comparisons.

Disbursements for the fiscal year ending May 31, Bridges $8,349.48
Roads and highways 714.41
Gravel roads 7,043.75 Disbursements for the fiscal year ending May 31,

It will be seen at a glance that since the present board assumed control, legitimate expenses for necessary improvements were reduced, while the expenses where the gang was interest-ed were materially increased, as will be shown in the following figures, taken from the same report: Disbursements in 1886-Miscellaneous..... 760.49

To Prevent Election Frauds. The Journal yesterday morning published the fact that Chairman J. N. Huston, of the Republican State central committee, had sent to the Committee of One Hundred a check for $500 to aid the committee in detecting, convicting and punishing violators of the election laws. It will be remembered that the committee was organized after the commission of the Coy and Bernhamer election frauds, for which those Democratic leaders are now serving out sentences in the penitentiary. Its object was not only to prevent the commission of further frauds, but to lessen the expenses of elections, and it was made up of an equal number of Democrats and Republicans, its president, Mr. A. B. Conduitt, being a Democrat, and its executive officers being taken from both parties. It seems that Chairman Huston only anticipated the desire of the committee, as yesterday the following letter was sent to the chairman of the Republican State central committee, and a copy of it forwarded to Chairman Jewett, of the Democratic State cen-

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 5, 1888. Hon. James N. Huston, Chairman Republican State

Dear Sir-Our attention has been repeatedly called to the great desire of the citizens of this county that the coming election, to be held on the 6th day of next month, may be free from the adverse influence of force and fraud, and the persons elected may be the free and uncorrupted choice of the majority of the voters. We believe that you are as greatly interested in this as any of our committee or any of our citizens, and in order that we may have an honest election and a fair count and return of the ballots as cast, and that all those who violate the election laws may be justly and swiftly punished, and the authority of law be vindicated in this county, to offer a suitable reward for the detection and conviction of any one who violates the election laws in said election. We believe that we are fully sustained by public opinion in this action, inasmuch as charges of intended wrong-doing in said election have already been made in the public press by each political party. We assure you that our co-operation in this matter will bear great weight in accomplishing the desired purpose. We suggest, therefore, in order that we may have the means with which to pay such rewards, that your committee contribute to our treasurer. Wm. P. Gallup, at the Meridian National Bank, to the special fund the sum of $500 at your convenience, not later than the 16th inst. Out of this money thus contributed we will pay a suitable reward for the detection and conviction of each violator of the election laws when the accused is sentenced by the court. We will use the money contributed to this fund for the payment of such rewards only, returning to the contributors, pro rata, any sums not so used. We have made a like request of the Democratic and Prohibition State central committees, and have also asked for $250 from each of the Republican, Democratic and Prohibition county committees of this county. On behalf of the executive committee. A. B. CONDUITT, President.

W. H. HOBBS, Secretary The object of this letter, like all the other offjects of the committee of one hundred, is easily understood. It is intended that the election laws throughout shall be upheld, and that the illegal expenditure of money in elections, as well as the use of fraudulent ballots and dishonest counts, shall be stopped. Mr. William Henderson, a member of the committee, in conversation with a Journal reporter, yesterday, referred to the growth of election expenses since 1849 and 1852, when the cost of the tickets was the main item and $1,500 covered the cost of a State election, and mentioned a remark once made by Mr. Tilden, that not more than 10 per cent of later campaign expenditures were used

As for the answers to the request of the committee of one hundred, Chairman Huston's has been practically made in advance by the sending of the check referred to. Chairman Jewett, of the Democratic committee, was out of the city yesterday, and the only intimation of the feeling of that committee yet made public are some remarks of Mr. St Sheerin, in the News of yesterday, in which he takes exception to the committee of one hundred as at present consti-

Gray Did Not Favor Railroad Men. Daniel W. Sheehan has been a Democrat for almost thirty years, and an engineer on the Panhandle nearly all that time. No one ever worked more zealously for the election of a candidate than did Mr. Sheehan for Grover Cleveland and the entire Democratic ticket in 1884 He said to a Journal reporter, last night, that he would have been a Democrat to-day had it not been for the misconduct of Governor Gray, when shortly after Cleveland took, his seat in the presidential chair, he presented a petition for appointment as a deputy United States Marshal to the Governor for his signature. "I was in company with Secretary of State My-ers," Mr. Sheehan continued, "and waited the latter's office while showed the Governor my petition and asked him to sign it. When Myers returned he informed me that the Governor had refused to sign it. I asked him to explain, and he stated that Gray had said: 'I'll not do it. have signed too many petitions already, and I'll be --if I'll sign any more for railroad men.' My petition was signed by 270 railroad men and was got up by Eugene Debb, secretary of the Locomotive Brotherhood of Engineers. Furthermore, the petition was signed by all the State officials when presented to Governor Gray. That same day, in the afternoon, I was passing the Courthouse and met Sim Coy. He asked me how I was getting along with my petition. I told him that all the State officials had signed, excepting Governor Grav. Coy jerked the paper out of my hands, exclaiming at the same time: 'By g-, I'll make him sign it. You come around to my saloon this evening and get your petition. 'In the evening I called as requested, and sure enough Governor Gray had signed it. The following day I sent it to Senator Voorhees at Washington. In a few days it came back and with it a letter from Voorhees stating he could do nothing for that me, and requesting that I put it in the hands of United States Marshal Hawkins. Voorhees knew then that Hawkins had chosen all his deputies. Then I took it to 'Daddy' Jones and he refused to do anything for me. His son, Ben Jones, however, consented to take it to Washington and hand it to Senator Turpie. I gave it to him and have never seen it since. Turpie has been all this time carrying it around his pocket. He wrote me a letter a few days after he received it, in which he said that he could do nothing for me, adding that there would be no vacancies unless some one died.

was removed or resigned. "Since then I have done nothing further in the matter, only to make up my mind to vote for Harrison and Morton. All I desired was to be treated respectfully, and in that respect Gov. Gray, the party's leader in this State, has failed. He insulted the railroad men, and I shall do all I can to defeat the Democratio ticket. That party has refused to recognize the railroad men, and its glowing promises when Cleveland is re-elected are not to be fulfilled."

A Conscientious Prohibitionist Abandons that

The Kokomo Gazette-Tribune prints a letter written by R. M. S. Hutchens, of Plymouth, Marshall county, a man who stands as high in that community as the best man that could be named in this city. The original letter is in the hands of Senator Harness, of Howard county.

The following is an extract: In July I attended the Prohibition convention of Marshall county, held at Plymouth, for the purpose of nominating a county ticket. I was made president of that convention. Rev. Hughes, the Prohibition candidate for Governor, was there and made a speech, and in private conversation with me he [Hughes] said: "The only thing for us to pay any attention to in this campaign is the Republican party. We must defeat them at all hazards." This went all over me, and I soon authorized the editor of the Plymouth Republican to say that "R. M. S. Hutchens, who was president of the Prohibition convention, being fully satisfied that the Prohibition party is being run in the severed from said party and he will work and vote for Harrison and Morton." The Democrats and Prohibitionists have both been very angry at me ever since. Of course they are equally offended, because their cause is the same.

The Coming Great Event. The demonstration on the occasion of the visit of Blaine ond other distinguished members of the Republican party, next Thursday, bids fair to be one of the greatest events in the political history of Indiana. Every county in the State is expected to send its organizations, and they will all be assigned positions in the grand parade Thursday afternoon. In addition to the statesmen already mentioned who will be here, Senators Sherman and Allison have notified the committee on arrangements that they will be

A Southern View of the Case. An Indianapolis commercial traveler, representing a Detroit house, who got home from a Southern trip this week, says he heard Hon. Thos. L. Williams, of the Democratic State executive committee of Tennessee, make the remark to a friend, in a parlor car, while going from Chattanooga to Nashville, that Bob Taylor would carry Tennessee, but that Harrison would be elected. "The Democrats of New York are divided," he added, "and we know there is no hope there, and while we do not admit it publicly, we may as well talk facts among ourselves." There is a good deal of bluffing going on among Southern Democrats, and the Journal's informant spoke of one case where an offer was made to him of $200 to $100 that Harrison would not be elected, but when the money was offered the man who wanted to bet on Cleveland declined to put up his stake.

The political situation here is growing quite lively. The Kepublicans have not placed a State ticket in the field, and as a party will only support the electoral ticket, and will coalesce in local contests with conservative Democrats to defeat the Bourbon Democracy. Harrison will receive the largest Re-publican vote ever polled in Texas. I beleve that if there could be an election in Mills's district to-day he would be defeated. At all events, Mills and the Bourbon Democracy are badly scared. He has abandoned his post of duty and is now in his district fixing up his fences. It is extremely doubtful whether he will again be returned to Congress. If the people in the North knew his record here as a Know nothing, a bitter, proscriptive partisan, whose prominence is due to his services in the cause of the whisky ring in Texas; if they knew how he tried to fan the flames of sectional hate in the late Prohibition campaign in this State, his declarations and speeches would have but little weight among them. The Republicans in Texas are anxiously awaiting the result of the presidential election in the North and East, and trust that Indiana will do her whole duty to her

The Michigan Situation. Ex-United States Senator T. W. Ferry, of Michigan, was at the New Denison yesterday, in good health and spirits, and very much pleased | stand how it has made me cautious." Amid with the Republican outlook in Michigan as well as in this State. "We have not had as spirited a canvass in Michigan," he said, "as you are having here, but we have not been idle and the Republican movement there will be open and agressive from this time forward. We are having no trouble with the Prohibition third party. or labor element, and you can set Michigan down as good for 15,000 majority for the Republican national ticket. As to the general result, I am counting a good deal on the prominence of the tariff issue and the fact that we have a million new voters at this presidential election. The question of protection or no protection to American industries is practically involved in this election, and I have no fear of the result when the question is understood.

Another Statement Regarding E. C. Atkins. An old employe of E. C. Atkins sends the following letter to the Journal:

To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: "I have been in the employ of E. C. Atkins for the past eight years, and he has never dictated to me which way I should vote, nor do l believe he would discharge any man for political purposes. I know Mr. Atkins and firm to be straight-forward Christian gentlemen. I am a solid Democrat, always have been, and always THEODORE R. LILLY. expect to be. "61 Beaty street."

Litchman's Meeting l'ostponed. On account of the rain last night the open-air meeting at the foot of Virginia avenue, to have been addressed by Charles J. Litchman, exsecretary of the Knights of Labor, was postponed. About two hundred laboring men came out in the rain to hear Mr. Litchman, but as many more desired to hear him, he concluded to postpone his address until some future date. Those who had come out went to Virginia-avenue Rink, and listened to an able address by Nat J. Henderson, of Texas. Who Can Vote.

W. J. Brown, colored, accepts the challenge of the colored Freeman for a joint debate with any member of the so-called colored Democratic club, the conditions being that the debate be within the next twelve days.

The Fifth ward colored club organized last night with 115 members, and elected the fo lowing officers: Captain, Geo. W. Cheatham; first lieutenant, Robt. Buckner; second lieutenant, R. Wilson; sergeant-at-arms, Lewis Jasper; sergeant, D. W. Buckner.

Mrs. Gen. Wm. H. Gibson, Mrs. Robt. Lysle, of Tiffin, O., Mrs. Root, of this city, accompanied by A. C. Baldwin, of Tiffin, had a very pleasant visit by appointment, yesterday, with Mrs. Harrison, who gratified her visitors by ex-hibiting a number of presents, etc. Dr. Palmer, of Janesville, the Surgeon-general of Wisconsin, said yesterday that Wisconsin would increase her Republican majority 20 per cent. over four years ago, and that aside from the fact of Democrats who were coming over to the Republican party, the campaign in that State was not particularly interesting. A committee of Wisconsin gentlemen came to the Journal office last night and said they never heard anything about their State being doubtful until they came here. They want it distinctly understood that there is nothing doubtful about Wisconsin. "She will," said the spokesman, "give at least 10,000 majority for Harrison and Morton. We propose to make it 20,000 clear."

Superintendent Williams, of the Poor Asylum, refuses to permit a poll to be taken of the inmates by the Republicans. The canvasser assigned to that duty recently asked to be permitted to poll the inmates, and he was flatly refused admission. William Kissel, a saloonkeeper in the same neighborhood, also refused to have the persons quartered in his place polled. Among other callers upon General Harrison yesterday was Mr. Allan W. Adams, of the large lumber firm of Wilson, Adams & Co., of New York city. Mr. Adams was cordially received, and had a very pleasant talk with the General. Among other things the General was ld was that out of the arm, which nur five members, there was but one Republican vote in 1884, while now there are four out of the five who will give their ballots for Harrison, Morton and protection.

Mr. T. G. Mandt, who was here with the Wisconsin delegation yesterday, is a Scandinavian, and as the president of the Mandt Manufacturing Company, of Stoughton, and its traveling representative, has frequent dealings with his countrymen in the Northwest. He says more than three fourths of the latter favor the Republican ticket this year, and that in his travels through Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin and Illi-nois he has found scores of cases of Democrats of four years since who will vote for Harrison

W. T. Van Kirk, chairman offthe Rock county Republican committee, boasted that his was the banner Republican county of Wisconsin, and was entirely hopeful of the outlook over the country. "One of the best ways," he said, "to tell how things are going is through the commercial travelers. Four years ago six out of ten traveling men who came into my store said that Cleveland was going to be elected. This year but two traveling men have expressed such an opinion to me. There are indications of gains by the Republicans all over our State. Many Irishmen have come over to us; they are too intelligent not to see that their interests lie with the Republican party. They are rapidly allying themselves with us."

The Act of a Miscreant,

A lady and gentleman about 12 o'clock last night discovered a tie taken up from the Lake Erie track at the crossing of Lincoln avenue. One end of the tie was found resting on a rail while on the other end was placed a large bowlder, with the intention, it is thought, of wrecking the 2:30 morning train.

Hamor in the House.

John M. Allen, of Tupelo, Lee county, Mississippi, is the funniest man in the House of Representatives at Washington. He is making a great reputation in this way, which is the more remarkable as there is a sad dearth of humorous material in the House of Congress. He came first into notice during an exciting caucus on the tariff question, making a humorous speech just at a time when his squabbling Democratic brethren were ready to hit each other under the ear, and occasioning such mirth by what he said as to restore harmony in a twin-kle. Later on he opposed the bill providing for an increase of salary in the diplomatic service. contending with quaint and original logic that if a minister starved on $12,000 he was fully entitled to die.

"Some people," he said, with splendid effect, "think I have too much to say for a new member who never served on the appropriations committee, but I am not altogether without experience in deliberative bodies. I served for one full year as a member of the Board of Aldermen of the town of Tupelo. Sir, I was chairman of the finance committee. We spent that year the enormous sum of $800. That board was defeated for re-election on account of its profligate extravagance. 'Having beenfone of the victims of this bitter experience you can readily underroars of laughter he continued in this strain, and when he finally sat down the house, with one accord shouted, "Go on, go on."

EVERY NIGHT I SCRATCHED

Until the Skin was raw. Body covered with scales like spots of mortar.

Cured by the Cuticura Remedies. I am going to tell you of the extraordinary change your Cuticura Remedies performed on me. About the 1st of April last I noticed some red pimples like coming out all over my body, but thought nothing of it until some time later on, when it began to look like spots of mortar spotted on, and which came off in layers, accompanied with itching. I would scratch every night until I was raw, then the next night the scales, being formed meanwhile, were scratched off again. In vain did I consult all the doctors in the country, but without aid. After giving up all hopes of recovery, I happened to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your Cuticura Remedies, and purchased them from my druggist, and obtained almost immediate relief. I began to notice that the scaly eruptions gradually dropped off and disappeared one by one, and have been fully cured. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the Cuticura Remedies, and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was eczema and psoriasis. I recommended the Cuticura Remedies to all in my vicinity, and I know of a great many who have taken them. and thank me for the knowledge of them, especially mothers who have babes with scaly eruptions on their heads and bodies. I cannot express in words the thanks to you for what the Cuticura Remedies have been to me. My body was covered with scales, and I was an awful spectacle to behold. Now my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's.
